

STRATFORD TREES

Advanced Wholesale Nursery

Lagerstroemia indica x L fauriei 'Biloxi'

Common Name: 'Pink Crepe Myrtle'

Image Credit: Stratford Trees, Trigg Plants & Gardens Online

Landscape value:

Like all Crepe Myrtles, the Biloxi is a highly ornamental tree. Upright with a vase shaped canopy and prolific pale pink flowers throughout the summer months. The bark is also considered to be of ornamental value, as it has an intriguing pattern.

Ideal as a feature in gardens or parks, or for avenue and street plantings.

Typical size: 6m x 4m

Growth rate: Moderate

Habit: Upright, vase shaped canopy

Flowers: Clusters of pale pink, crinkly/frilly like petaled flowers. Prune to promote heavy flowering.

Fruit: -

Position: Full sun, part shade

Season of Interest: Summer and Autumn

Soil Type: Tolerates most soils, ideally well drained.

Tolerances/cultivation: Tolerable of hot conditions and once established tends to be drought hardy.